The Cause of the Outbreak at Washington—A Radiruad Company's Ruse.

Washinotox, July 27.—The fresh outbreak to-day among the employees of the Delaware anni Lackawana railroad the attitions say was caused by a trick which was played upon them yestorday by the company. Itogus messengers were sent to the engine dispatcher at Hoboken that all was settled, and the men should resume work, and others ordering that trains should be allowed to proceed. The signatures of coumitteemen to those dispatches were forged. The strikers feel agrioved at such tricks, and are determined to do nothing to forward the business of the road until they receive reliable orders from their own countil-teemen. THE NEW YORK CUSTOM-HOUSE

THE NEW YORK CUSTOM-HOUSE.

Second Report of the Commission to the Secretary of the Treasury-Suggestions and Recommendations—Corruption, Dishonesty and Incompetency of the Officials Under Collector Arthur.

The second report of the commission appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to investigate the affairs of the New York custom-house was made public yesterday. This report is almost entirely devoted to the employees of the New York custom-house. Referring to the character of the man who are now upon Collector Arthur's pay-rolls, the commissioners aver that ignorance and incapacity prevail throughout, causing delays and mistakes, imperiling the safety of the revenue and the interest of the importers, and bringing the service into reproach.

The chiefs of the departments complained to the commission that men were sent to them without heaves second to do the work and posed to act in collision with the dishonest efficial.

The report further adds that, comparing the duties on imports and expenses of the collection of the revenue in Great Britain and America, in appear that the imports of Great Britain exceeded in 1874 $1,990,000,000, and her expense sexeeded $1,500,000,000, and that the expense of collecting customs was $5,000,000.

The same ware our inverse was $6,000,000.

marca, in appear mas us imports of Great Britain exceeded in 1574 $1,800,000,000, and her exports exceeded in 1574 $1,800,000,000, and har exports exceeded in 1574 $1,800,000,000, and that the expense of collecting customs was $5,000,000. The same year our imports were $642,000,000 and our exports $575,000,000. This more than one third of those of Great Britain—and that the expense of collecting our revenue was about $7,000,000.

The commission recommended a revision of the force at stated times, and suggests that each officer should understand that the Government expects them to maintain a standard of capacity and fidelity proportional to the public interests, and such as would be demanded by a prudent merchant. The report submits a plan regulating the scale of salaries and classifications, and concludes as follows: Should Congress. In view of the increasing and in this country, to evail the laws and defraud the customs, constituting, as has been said, 'a similar conspiracy against the Treasury,' be impressed with the erient to which the subjection of the customs service to partisan control endangers at once the revenue, the commerce, the industry, and the morality of the control, it will doubless delivered to the control of the customs service to partisan control endangers at lowards securing in the service the tests required by Washington and Jafferson in the youth of the Republic—of honesty and capability. Should it, looking simply to the safety of the revenue, confirm, by apprepriate ignificant, except for cause, would probably enable the Government to reduce somewhat the scale of salaries without detriment to the public interests.

In conclusion, the commission respectfully recommend—
